Error Lies With Department As School District Faces Bill For Ground Seal

Saanich School District is faced with a possible $6,000 bill through the action of the department of education.

On Monday evening Trustee G. L. Chatterton told trustees that the ground seal under the auditorium at Royal Oak high school had been omitted because the department had eliminated it from the architects' plans.

Mr. Chatterton had taken the matter up with the department

LAST RITES FOR AGED LOCAL MAN

Last rites were observed on Saturday for Henry David Dale Lawson, of Marine Drive, Sidney, who passed away at Rest Haven hospital on Tuesday, Oct. 11. Services were held at Sands Funeral Chapel by Rev. Roy Melville and interment followed in Ross Bay cemetery.

Mr. Lawson was born in Victoria 90 years ago. He worked in the city for many years as harness maker, later working as upholsterer. He retired to Sidney 17 years ago.

He is survived by his wife, Ada, at home, and three half-sisters.

BRITAIN WAS FULL UP!

Tourist Paradise Falls Down on Accommodation

Second only to its productive capacity Britain reigns supreme as a tourist paradise. When Mr. and Mrs. Harry Carter, Sixth St., Sidney spent three months in their native land this summer they were dumbfounded by the emphasis on tourists in all parts of the country.

This enthusiasm for tourists is very noticeable in the case of accommodation. The visitor to almost any town or city is faced with a prospect of filled hotels throughout the summer months. Towns boasting of capacity for hundreds of visitors during the remainder of the year are hard-pressed to find rooms for two tourists during the summer months.

The cause of the problem is the popularity of organized touring, found Mr. Carter. The organizers book accommodation months in advance and the casual visitor is left to find any room he may.

The same enthusiasm for touring was evident when the Carters looked for a car and trailer. They had planned to tour the country in a caravan. One company which rents 700 such units could offer them nothing until the end of September. Another with a mere 300 units was booked up until next year. Caravan camps are all over the country in much the same manner as they are to be found on this continent.

FIRST FOR 40 YEARS

It was the first time that the Sidney couple had visited their native land for 40 years. They visited the grave of their son, who lost his life in an aerial crash there during the Second World War.

FALLS FROM DOCK AT PLANT

G. L. McKee, foreman at the National Packers' Shingle Bay reduction plant, was rushed by launch to the Lady Minto hospital, Ganges, Saturday evening, suffering from concussion and shock sustained in a fall from the dock at the plant.

Mr. McKee slipped off the end of the dock, striking his head on a large rock 12 feet below. He regained consciousness Sunday, but as a precautionary measure Dr. Wilkie planned removing him to Victoria for further consultations. Mrs. McKee flew over to be with her husband.

and he had been informed that the department had no hard and fast rule on the subject. It had not been considered necessary.

Today, said the trustee, the necessity is very evident and the only bid for ground sealing the property was submitted in the amount of $6,420. This tender was refused as the board has only $3,500 available for the work.

RULED OUT

Mr. Chatterton raised the matter when the board was told that the department had ruled out a new three-room school at Deep Cove in the proposed building program. The school had been reduced to a two-room school and the board was instructed to continue to use the present one-room building.

The trustee wanted a written instruction from the department in this regard, in order that any future problems arising from the department decision might be laid at the proper door.

The board will ask the department of education for its ruling in writing, "in view of the fact that the original recommendation had been made by an architect, the Regional Planning Board director."

Heads Scouts

J. REID HANNAN

Re-elected chairman of the Sidney Scout Group Committee last week was J. Reid Hannan, T.C.A. passenger agent, of Beacon Ave. Serving with him are A. R. Alexander, vice-chairman; Mrs. G. Flint, secretary, and John Pow, treasurer.

The committee heard a report on the lack of Scouts in the Sidney troop and a drive was approved for further membership. A shortage of leaders, already reported, was not considered until such time as the number of Scouts increases in order to justify a drive for a new leader.

Freeman King addressed the meeting on the recent jamboree in Ontario and showed slides to illustrate his comments.

Reports were given by Scoutmaster Ed Mason and Cub leaders Mrs. Nora Cooke and Al Miller.

Preliminary arrangements were made for Boy Scouts' Apple Day, Saturday, Oct. 29.

Aged Brentwood Man Is Called

Harry Parker, who resided on West Saanich Road, died at St. Joseph's hospital last week at the age of 83.

He was a familiar figure at Brentwood for many years and will be missed by his friends and neighbors. He had no relatives in the district but is survived by relatives in Dauphin, Man., where funeral services were held.

New Evening Class Is Overflow From His Home

H. M. Tobin, Sidney immigration officer, has his hands full. For two years Mr. Tobin has held classes in basic English at his own home. The classes have been open to all newcomers to Canada whose command of English was limited or non-existent.

This year the classes have over-reached themselves and the number of students is too great to permit of their being held in a private home. On Monday evening trustees of Saanich School District approved the use of a room at Sidney elementary school for the purpose.

During the evening trustees also approved the use of Royal Oak high school for confirmation classes for parishioners of Rev. N. J. Godkin, pastor of St. Michael's church at Royal Oak. Mr. Godkin asked for the privilege in view of the fact that the students were already in a central location while at school. It relieved them of the

Campaign Extended One Week

Community Chest campaign in the rural areas has been extended one week. The campaign will be opened on Monday, Oct. 24, in Central Saanich and North Saanich. Chairman of the chest campaign in Saanich Peninsula will be Frank G. Richards, of The Review.

Target for the area will be set at the amount dispensed by the Community Chest in the area during the past year. Canvassers will call on householders throughout the district during the coming week. Donations to the chest will also be accepted at The Review office.

Freight Rates To Be Cut?

Reduced freight rates and increased service by the Lady Rose are planned by the Gulf Islands Navigation Ltd.

Managing Director O. H. New announced in Vancouver on Tuesday that the company is proceeding with its plans for the purchase of the "Lady Rose" for the purpose of maintaining the present service between the mainland, the Gulf Islands and Vancouver Island until such time as a new boat can be built.

The company will soon inaugurate a Friday evening sailing to the Gulf Islands. This change in the schedule will permit mainlanders to spend a full week-end in the islands and will permit the islanders to leave the islands in the morning, spend the day in Vancouver and return to the islands the same evening.

NEW TARIFF

A preferential tariff will be introduced shortly on shipments from the Gulf Islands of meat, fruit, vegetables, flowers and other commodities produced in the islands, stated Mr. New.

"This reduction in freight rates will encourage the shipment to the mainland and Vancouver Island of the once-famous Gulf Islands produce," he added.

need to travel to the rectory to attend the classes.

Trustee Eric Rowbottom announced that a new schedule has been prepared for the school bus in the Royal Oak area. The new route will permit of the transportation of pupils in the West Saanich-Durran Road area. Parents had strongly objected to the pupils' walking on West Saanich Road on the grounds that it was a high-speed, dangerous thoroughfare.

SUPERANNUATION

When final approval was sought for the superannuation scheme as applicable to staff of the school district it was pointed out that there was no convenient method of checking the statements offered by the employees regarding their term of service. Although there was no reason to suspect that these statements were other than accurate, the board is required to confirm them. Records of school districts in operation before 1946 are incomplete and by no means reliable whereby they can be confirmed.

Players

A. F. C. WATTS

Taking the lead in the new play to be presented by Peninsula Players at the end of the week is A. F. C. Watts, who has already attained distinction with the local amateur drama group. Mr. Watts will play the Rev. Gregory Martin in the "Holly and the Ivy". The presentation will be given in the North Saanich high school auditorium on Friday and Saturday evenings, Oct. 21 and 22.

One of the most ambitious plays to be attempted by the players, Wynyard Browne's highly successful three-act play will be directed by Leslie Allen, who directed Festival Day last May. Taking part in the production will be Muriel Smith, Joan Henriksen, David Smart, Jean Christie, Eve Gray, J. Lunn and James Logan. Stage manager is Ailsa Rothery.

Spouses Are Strange Lot

Spouses of Sidney property owners are a strange lot, judging from the paucity of applications being received at the village office these days for authority to vote in the forthcoming municipal election.

Publicity has been given to the fact that wives and husbands of registered property owners must register with the village clerk in order to have their names entered on the municipal voters list. They have until the end of October to complete this registration.

By October 19 only eight had so registered. It is estimated that literally hundreds by failing to register are showing that they have no interest whatsoever in their franchise. Yet it is reasonable to suppose that some of those who have not registered, will be loud in their complaints when they are refused a vote in December.

STEADY GROWTH OF SIDNEY IS SEEN BY VISITOR

An early resident of Sidney, George Dickson of Seattle, returned for a brief visit on Thursday last with his nephew, Joe Muscow of The Review staff.

Mr. Dickson came to Sidney after service in the First World War. He was an experienced mill operator and he served with the old Sidney mill until 1922, when he moved to Seattle. For many years he has been general manager of Stetson-Ross Machine Co., manufacturers of heavy sawmill machinery. Shipments are made to many parts of the world and Mr. Dickson travels a great deal in this connection.

The former Sidney man, who has visited this community infrequently in recent years, commented on the steady growth of North Saanich. "Your district certainly looks different today than 30 years ago when the mill was practically the only commercial enterprise operating," he said.

INSURANCE PLAN FOR STUDENTS

Air Commodore S. L. G. Pope informs The Review that arrangements for the insurance of school children in Saanich School District No. 63 have now been completed. A. G. Blair, secretary of the school district, and A. H. Bolster, president of the Saanich Peninsula P.T.A. council have agreed to co-operate in the distribution and collection of the enrollment forms.

Since the incorporation of the insurance plan last year, there has been a tremendous increase in the numbers of school districts enrolled. Last year more than 20 claims in Saanich school district were paid promptly to the satisfaction of the parents.

Air Commodore Pope reports that the premium of $3 charged last year for high school pupils has now been reduced to $1.50.

To Continue Service

Until End of November at Least

Ferry service linking Port Washington on North Pender Island with Swartz Bay on the Saanich Peninsula will be continued for the time being. This assurance was given a representative delegation of Pender Island residents on Tuesday by Hon. P. A. Gagliardi, minister of highways.

The delegation consisted of Captain Roy Beech, Wm. Shirley, L. Auchterlonie, Mrs. G. B. Jennens, Mrs. A. E. Craddock, Bert Roe and J. W. Taylor. Present also was Dr. L. Giovando, M.L.A., and representatives of the Salt Spring Island and Victoria Chambers of Commerce.

The delegation explained that a petition had been circulated on the two Penders and that 97 per cent of the residents had thus expressed themselves as most anxious for the subsidized ferry service to be continued.

ed themselves as most anxious for the subsidized ferry service to be continued.

NO COMMITMENTS

The minister gave his visitors an attentive hearing, promising that the service would be continued for the time being but making no commitment on what the situation would be after November 30.

To The Review some of the delegates voiced their appreciation of the interest shown by Mr. Gagliardi. "We are confident that he will not deny us the permanent subsidized ferry service which we so vitally need," they declared.

Picture Is Dismal, Says Chatterton

Inspector Harold Johns is to bring in a report to Saanich School District concerning night school classes.

On Monday evening Trustee G. L. Chatterton deplored the lack of such courses in the district. Adult education is a material contribution to the community, he contended and the board should take some action to promote it.

"It is pretty dismal if we haven't one night school class going in our district," he commented. "We should have a superintendent of night schools to promote it. The board should take the initiative in the matter."

The trustee recalled that the board had some money in hand for use in connection with night classes.

NEW MAIL SERVICE

New mail delivery is planned at Fulford, the post office authorities have announced. The new plan will see a mail delivery on Fridays, giving a five-day delivery service at the southern Salt Spring community.

SANSCHA PLANS MEETING HERE

Sidney and North Saanich Community Hall Association and the North Saanich War Memorial Park Board will both meet on Tuesday evening, Oct. 25, in Sidney Fire Hall.

Members are urged to attend this first meeting since July 1.

HE LIKES SOUTH WALES

But He Paid No Fine For Despoiling Roman Grave

L. G. Thomas of Brentwood, who has large farm holdings in North Saanich, has returned from a visit to his native Wales, very much impressed with progress in the field of agriculture over there.

Mr. Thomas last saw Wales when he was a very young boy. That was quite a long time ago. He flew to England with T.C.A. and returned by K.L.M. airline to Amsterdam and over the Polar route with Canadian Pacific Airlines. Planes were filled with passengers both east and west, he said.

When Mr. Thomas left the Old Country, farming was an occupation pretty well ignored. The agriculturist in those days made the best living he could and received no help from anyone. On his recent visit he found the situation entirely different. Farmers today receive the highest priority on machinery and materials to assist them in producing food supplies which are so vitally needed. All farms are fully mechanized and farmers are most prosperous.

SATISFIED

The people appear to be very well satisfied with their national health plan, he found. He saw lots of "help wanted" signs. There was no unemployment and many employed persons were working overtime.

Mr. Thomas was interested to learn that the largest steel mill in the world is located in South Wales.

He spent some time at his ancestral farm home near Welshpool in Montgomeryshire. It has been operated by his family for many centuries and is presently directed by John Thomas, 13th. The visitor again walked the fields where he played as a boy. "In one of the fields was a large mound where he had played with other children and where the lambs gambolled. Recently it had been examined by members of the Historical Monuments Society and a notice had been erected proclaiming it a Roman burial ground. The sign warned that anyone interfering with it would be fined £50 or sentenced to six months' imprisonment. The visitor took good care not to interfere with it.

Returning from his visit abroad, Mr. Thomas has reflected on how life might have turned out had he remained in Wales. He's very pleased that he came to spend his life in Canada.

Mr. Thomas expressed regret that he was unable to visit Llanfairpwllgwyngyllgogerychwyrndrobwlldislilioogogochan, which is near his old home.

Fire Destroys Island Home

Fire destroyed the two-room dwelling of Fred Dickenson, rural mail carrier at Port Washington, early Friday morning, while Mr. Dickenson was absent attending his rabbits at the Hope Bay Rabbitry.

It was thought a leaking oil stove caused an explosion, spreading the flames so quickly the house was beyond saving when help arrived.

J. J. Martinich, an early riser, first noticed the smoke, but it was then too late to do more than keep the fire from spreading to adjacent buildings.

A pet budgie was lost in the blaze, as well as a quantity of valuable sterling silver flatware. Mr. Dickenson is temporarily housed near the rabbitry. There was no insurance.

Mount Newton P.T.A. is featuring a novel series of tea and coffee parties and card parties, to be organized among the members and their friends, for the purpose of raising money for general funds. These parties are to be held between mid-October and November 6. Admission is to be 50 cents. Any member can organize such a party for the above purpose. At the next meeting of the P.T.A. a draw will be held for prizes which are to be Leaving Friday for a hunting trip to the Cariboo were J. D. Holloway, Doug. Wood, Fred Sutton and Bud Zuck. They left via Nanaimo.

Friends of Donna Bickford will be pleased to hear of the scholastic award of a silver spoon, emblematic of scholastic achievement in grade 11 at Royal Oak high school, which she received Friday evening at the annual award night held in the Royal Oak high school auditorium. Joanne Galt and Gloria Pope shared honors in the minor block award for proficiency in athletics for grade 12.

The Misses Kathleen Little and Heather Wishart left on Saturday via C.P.A. for a three-week vacation to the Hawaiian Islands. Among the many happy events planned is the participation in the world famous Hukilau at Laie on the southwestern tip of Oahu, 35 miles from Honolulu. The Hukilau is associated with fishing, feasting and sight-seeing, Hawaiian and Samoan entertainment. The Hukilau floor show consists of 45 minutes from the two groups. This is held once every month.

BRENTWOOD

Annual meeting of the Brentwood Women's Institute was held in the hall on Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. R. Ronson in the chair and a large attendance of members. The meeting opened with the singing of the W.I. Ode, the minutes of the previous meeting were read and the monthly financial report given. The correspondence included the P.N.E. report and the news letter. The president gave a very interesting annual report and the annual reports of the conveners were given. Members were reminded of the birthday of the adopted boy at the Queen Alexandra Solarium and gifts will be sent to him. Mrs. H. Wood read the annual financial report which showed a large sum of money had been made and spent during the past year, chiefly on renovations and additions to the W.I. hall. Mrs. E. Goulding took the chair for the election of officers which resulted as follows: Mrs. R. Ronson was re-elected president; Mrs. MacFarlane, vice-president; Mrs. G. Bickford, re-elected secretary; Mrs. H. Wood, re-elected treasurer, and the directors are Mrs. V. Wood and Mrs. J. Combe. After adjournment of the meeting tea was served by the hostesses, Mrs. H. Woodward and Mrs. F. K. Littlewood.

There were 11 members and one visitor present at the meeting of the W.A. to the Brentwood United church, held on Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. M. O. Godmanson, Clark Road. Several members were absent because of sickness. Mrs. A. Cuthbert presided in the absence of the president and the vice-president, and Mrs. G. Bickford took the place of the secretary, who is away for a few weeks. After opening the meeting with the Lord's Prayer the business of the meeting was soon dispensed and the remainder of the afternoon was spent in making plans for the turkey supper, being held at the W.I. hall on Friday, Oct. 28, from 5 to 7 o'clock. Mrs. A. Cuthbert will be the convener; there will also be a needlework stall convened by Mrs. A. Burdon and Mrs. R. Kelly. Mrs. A. M. Angus, wife of the minister, and Mrs. G. Moody, president of the W.A., will be the hostesses at the supper, received the guests at the door. The meeting closed with Mizpah and tea was served, the hostesses were Mrs. H. Simpson and Mrs. A. Torrible. The next meeting will be held on Thursday, Nov. 17, at the home of Mrs. G. Bickford, West Saanich Road.

Rev. and Mrs. H. E. Marshall, Stellys Cross Road, left by plane for a month's vacation. They will visit in Toronto and other places in Canada and will then go on to Virginia, returning to Brentwood next month.

Plans will be made at a meeting this week for the Brentwood Women's Institute annual turkey card party, to be held in the W.I. hall on Friday, Dec. 16.

Robert Sluggitt, West Saanich Road, has gone to Mission City for an indefinite time to stay with his daughter and son-in-law, Rev. and Mrs. E. V. Apps and family.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Gilbert, Norman Lane, Brentwood Bay, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Rose-Marie, to Alan Tucker, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Tucker, who resided at Brentwood until recently, when they moved to Victoria. The wedding will take place Friday, Nov. 4, in the Brentwood Memorial Chapel, Rev. N. A. Lowe officiating. Mrs. L. Foster will be matron of honor and Miss Marilyn Cliffe bridesmaid. Little Cheryl Alexander will be flower girl.

HOBBY SHOW IS BIG FEATURE AT COUNTRY FAIR

Annual country fair held at the community hall, Brentwood, on Saturday night, was most successful.

The various organizations in the district had stalls of home cooking, aprons, candles and miscellaneous and they all did a good business.

The hobby show, which is bigger and better each year and brings entries from all over Saanich, drew admiring crowds, down to the basement where the exhibits were displayed on tables and on the walls.

The affair was highlighted by a fashion show put on by well known residents of Brentwood, and directed by Mrs. A. Cuthbert and Mrs. R. Ronson. M. O. Godmanson was at the piano.

Councillor H. Andrew led the show as a well-dressed lady of 1848, others fashioned clothes from that time until the present day.

The large crowd enjoyed picture shows by E. Hatch, principal of Brentwood school, and various games of bingo, darts and others, all through the evening from seven o'clock until nearly midnight.

is preparing for a concert to be held at the Women's Institute hall on Wednesday, Nov. 16.

KEATING GIRL WEDS AT SHADY CREEK CHURCH CEREMONY

Shady Creek United church was the setting for a pretty wedding on Saturday evening, Sept. 24, when Miss Deanna Thora Dudman exchanged vows and rings with Lionel Frederick Green. Rev. William Buckingham performed the ceremony before the altar, banked with baskets of white and pastel gladioli and asters.

The bride, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dudman, R.R. 2, Royal Oak, was given in marriage by her father. She chose a traditional floor-length gown of white satin, the bodice inset with pleats featured a rolled collar and long lily-point sleeves. A coronet of gathered net outlined in mother of pearl sequins and scattered with pearls held her waist-length veil and she wore a three-strand pearl necklace and matching earrings.

Her cascade bouquet was of red roses and white carnations. Mrs. Elsie Laird, who was matron of honor for her sister, wore a ballerina-length gown of aqua crystal satin and white nylon gloves and white shoes. Her headpiece was designed of white flowers and she carried a cascade bouquet of white and red carnations. A pearl necklet and earrings completed her ensemble.

FLOWER GIRL

A peach taffeta frock with white nylon gloves and white slippers was worn by little Sharon Harris, the flower girl. She carried a basket of pink, yellow and white chrysanthemums. The groom, the son of Mrs. J. Frew and the late C. Green, had as his best man, Raymond Campbell and the usher was Alfred Johnson.

The three-tiered wedding cake was cut by the newlyweds at the reception held at the home of the bride's parents on Rudolph Road, following the ceremony. For a honeymoon trip to Washington and Oregon the new Mrs. Green chose a navy blue linen princess-style coat dress, navy and white hat, white stole and white accessories.

On their return Mr. and Mrs. Green will make their home at 1056 Balmoral Road, Victoria.

A SLOW PROCESS

IT'S not exaggerating one little bit to say that inauguration of Sidney's sorely-needed new rural mail route is a slow process. Last June the wheels were set in motion when the post office department ruled that growth of population in North Saanich had been so great in recent years that one rural mail courier could no longer handle the task of distributing Her Majesty's mails in the area. Today, many months later, the situation is unchanged.

Just why the postal wheels should turn so slowly is baffling to the layman. The average businessman, faced with a similar problem, would have secured the services of a responsible courier and told him to go to work. But this simple process seems to have bogged down. The second rural route has not yet been started and the public, although paying for the service, is still denied it.

Tenders have been forwarded to Ottawa by two prospective couriers. One of them has served to the satisfaction of everyone for 20 years. The other promises to give equally as good service. Let us hope that the tenders will be signed without delay and the new rural route launched before winter makes it more difficult for aged and infirm people to walk long distances to the Sidney post office for their mail.

FERRY SERVICE

FERRY service which links Sidney with Anacortes in Washington was suspended on Sunday for the season. Many residents of Sidney and district watched its seasonal termination with regret for regular arrival of the ships means a very great deal to the economy of not only this immediate district but to the whole south of Vancouver Island.

The season of 1955 unquestionably has set an all-time record for traffic between Sidney and Anacortes. Residents do not need the official figures to know that the graph of ferry travel between these centres is rising, year by year. Just what point the graph will have reached by 1960 is a very interesting reflection.

An official of State of Washington Ferries has reported that the operations of his company have been hampered this season by the faulty condition of the Sidney wharf. With an eye to the revenue enjoyed by Canada from this valuable ferry connection, the department of public works should waste no time in seeing that the necessary repairs are made.

The ferry operators made no mistake in prolonging the season's service this year. The boats continued to operate until October 16, two full weeks longer than usual. And they carried very heavy traffic to and from Sidney during the last two weeks. We are quite certain that the ships will operate at least this late in the season in 1956, and possibly longer. With a slightly earlier start being made every year and service continuing a little later each season, the day may not be too far distant when the company will decide to operate a year-around service. This would be welcome by all residents of lower Vancouver Island, we are certain.

Letters To The Editor

HE IS NOT HAPPY

Editor, Review,
Sir,

I have read the "Problem" in your issue of Oct. 5, giving a doctor's views in connection with the proposed new hospital at Ganges. May I be allowed space to give one taxpayer's views?

The article refers to an estimated decrease in the mill rate. As I write, I have before me my tax receipts for 1954 and 1955. My assessment has risen 44 per cent. We were led to expect this. We were, however, assured that due to the increased assessment, the mill rate would drop. Well, here are the figures: 1954 mill rate: general, 0.05; schools, 10.56. Mill rate in 1955: general, 0.05; schools, 10.66. I would be very glad to have the doctor or anyone else, explain to me how that represents any sort of decrease.

If the financing of the hospital is to be based on the same fiction, I fall to see any "complete protection" of ourselves as taxpayers. In your issue of Oct. 5, I have called attention to the rise in the estimated cost from $250,000 to $222,000.

A very pertinent aspect of the financial situation which has been so far ignored, is that we are gradually becoming a community of senior citizens, due to the fact that the young people are compelled to leave the island to find employment. Most of us, therefore, on whom the burden of debt for the hospital will fall, can look forward to reduced earning power, or fixed incomes derived from pensions or savings. We should be very sure of what we are in for before we vote "yes" to the finances.

I am surprised that the doctor should trot out that catchphrase about the government's intention to pay 2 1/2 per cent. If we are not at once, surely an educated man knows the government has no money to give. All they can do is to refund what they have already taken from us in taxation.

I presume the money by-law upon which we are to vote, will state a specific figure. If it does not do this we will be asked to give carte blanche for unlimited funds. What happens if the lowest tender for the work far exceeds the figure asked for? Do we then get no new hospital? In that case, I would ask the doctor to name the authority or person who will close the present hospital as his article implies.

I will also ask him to name the "laughing 'high government official' who is used as a bogey man in an attempt to scare us with the threat of reduced 'government assistance'." There is too much hiding behind anonymity in these matters. Let us have a little more straightforwardness than we have had up to the present.

Frankly, I, for one, resent the tone of the doctor's article, which can only be construed as an attempt, by one naturally biased, to stamper the rest of us by vague promises and veiled threats.

It is stated that we are all aware the present hospital is only remaining open on the understanding it will soon be replaced. I, personally, have no such awareness, nor can I locate any neighbor who has. This sort of wild statement only induces resentment and does not help the cause one iota.

As for the "frightening inadequacies," I have a few of those little blighters around my place. I do not, however, run myself into an overdraft to tear down the family mansion and replace it with one of those modernistic monstrosities. I stay within the budget and correct the offending condition at far less cost to myself.

I sympathize with the good doctor in his understandable desire to have an outstanding structure equipped with all the latest gadgets to perform in, but I would appreciate his interest a great deal more if he would discard the approach which has soured up this business from the start.

What we need is a definite figure, not to be exceeded under any circumstances; a clear statement as to what is to be purchased in addition to the structure itself; an admission that the present building never was condemned and a firm estimate from a competent authority as to the cost of modernizing the present structure. We definitely do not need any attempt by anyone, to bulldoze or stamper us into action over financing.

Finally I trust, that the arrangement for voting on the money by-law will be very different from that which marked the voting for trustees. That affair was about as close to the Russian pattern as it could come. It was so arranged that any Salt Spring Island voter who was unable to be present at a specific meeting held at an inconvenient time at Ganges, was thereby disenfranchised. That sort of action does nothing for the cause it espouses.

PARKING

Editor, Review,
Sir:

I feel that I must reply to your editorial regarding parking as it gives a very untrue and biased presentation.

You, I think, will recall that during the last two years the parking on Beacon Avenue has been discussed by the Commissioners. Last year a canvass was made of the business men to see if they would voluntarily park their own cars and get their assistants to park their cars off Beacon Avenue, in order to provide better parking facilities for THEIR customers. Some merchants did this by renting parking space from the Gem Theatre. Others continued to park their cars in front of business places (in some instances in front of other business premises). The latter procedure left the front of their own premises for the shopping public. To quote one specific instance it is generally impossible for any one at any time of the day to park outside the business premises on the East side of Third St. or to park outside the waterworks offices owing to the fact that the curb is occupied all day long by the same cars. There are instances of some premises which have four or five cars every day parked in the business area and on an average there are 20 every day parked from 9 p.m. to 6 p.m. These 20 cars take up parking space for about 100 cars of shoppers, as it is doubtful if the average shopper requires more than two hours to do his shopping.

You will therefore see that the crux of the whole problem was the unwillingness of most of the business men to take their own cars off Beacon Ave. and side streets and thus leave as much parking space for their customers.

Angle parking with the line-up of cars for the ferry is not practical. Angle parking could be provided on Beacon Ave. if the sidewalks were reduced in width. This would mean removing the present concrete curb, putting in a new one, in some parts removing the electric light and telephone poles, taking up present catch basins for drainage and resetting and connecting them to the storm drain, and reblackingtopping both sides of Beacon Ave. to a new grade. This work would cost at least $10,000. Would the ratepayers approve of spending this money in order to obviate the necessity of 20 business men and their assistants having to walk a block from their car to the store? The only way this could be done would be to do the work as a local improvement work. This would mean assessing the business premises on Beacon Ave. $10,000 on top of their usual taxes. Would the business men agree to this? If so then I suggest they present a petition signed by the business men concerned to the Commissioners asking for the work to be done as a local improvement, and then no doubt the Commissioners would give the petition serious consideration. The cost of the enforcement of the by-law is negligible and although the resulting fines go to the provincial government I think there are ways in which the village can be repaid for the cost of enforcement. In my opinion the only people who will be paying the fines are the business men and their assistants as I feel sure that they are the only ones who want to park for more than two hours.

With regard to off street parking, the Commissioners have no power to expend money to provide off-street parking, unless they put in meters and use the money derived from these to pay for the cost of off-street parking. Does anyone want parking meters?

The National Zoning By-law (which has been adopted by all progressive cities and villages—Sidney has adopted it but Victoria is still thinking about it) makes it compulsory for all new business premises and apartment blocks to provide off-street parking on a scale commensurate with the size of their building. The Bank of Montreal on Beacon Ave. provided off-street parking for their building.

I am sure the public will realize that the Commissioners are not chasing away normal commercial business, but on the other hand are making it easier for the shoppers to park on Beacon Ave. The only persons who will be hurt by the by-law are the business men who would not voluntarily co-operate to solve the parking problem and they will probably get more business although they may feel a little more tired at night through having to walk an extra block or so each day.

ANOTHER VIEW

Editor, Review,
Sir:

Once again we must take issue with you in regard to your editorial on parking in Sidney. In order to enlighten the public on the problems connected with this subject, let's put it this way.

1: Angle parking. Sidney is unique in its way. It is a little town, whose business section is barely four blocks long. It has no payroll, as such, and it is only 18

The Review's Book Review

"Marjorie Morningstar", by Herman Wouk. Doubleday 565 pp. $5.75.

There is always something depressing about reading a second book by a writer who has gained wide acclaim for the first. The reader is left with the certain knowledge that it will fail to come up to the standard of the first yet continues into it hoping it will yet make the grade.

This is the second offering by the author of The Caine Mutiny. Hailed in many countries as one of the best naval stories and an equally popular film. The Caine Mutiny was above average throughout.

As was to be expected, Marjorie Morningstar is average. Written as a commentary on the aspirations of a young Jewish in the United States who sees her aspirations developed and take her in directions not entirely planned, it becomes more picaresque than the theme really justifies.

The action is consistent and holds the attention of the reader.

miles from a city shopping centre. It is fortunate in having, however, for its main street, a wide thoroughfare, Beacon Ave., and this is termed a "Class B" highway. In summertime Sidney's Beacon Ave. is utilized by a line-up of cars waiting to board the Washington State Ferries for Anacortes. For years the occupants of these cars have invested U.S. dollars in the growth of Sidney, spending while they wait, and it is safe to say that had it not been for this ferry-line-up, placed as it has been, Sidney would not boast the modern shopping centre that it does.

Now you advocate angle parking. You cannot put in angle parking on Beacon Ave. without first moving the ferry line-up off Beacon, and on to some side street. If you do this there will be few, if any U.S. dollars left in Sidney from this source. Result? Some of us, if not forced out of business entirely, would certainly be able to offer our own public only poorer merchandise in contrast, and poorer prices. There is not one business which would not be affected, directly or indirectly—not one shopper from Sidney and outlying districts but would feel the effect in goods and services. Five per cent tax revenue would be lost, and U.S. dollars, so sorely sought after by this country's economy, would be sent scurrying home to roost. For it is a proven fact, that travellers will not stray out of sight of their cars to shop, or even to buy a cup of coffee. The population of this district is steadily increasing, but it has not yet reached the point where we can afford to dispense with supplementary summer trade. We feel that service and good merchandising are more important to the public than empty streets. Moreover, we have every reason to believe that the public itself enjoys seeing the summer traffic and would miss this added activity were it to be suspended.

The foregoing presents the main objection to angle parking on Beacon Ave. at the present time. There have been suggestions made for widening Beacon Ave. itself, thereby providing sufficient added space to allow angle parking and still retain the line-up in the centre of the street. This, of course, would be a long-term project and not practical as an immediate remedy, for the recent action has been on "now". Angle parking on the side streets is also a matter for future planning, as most of these are not yet in condition to accommodate it. Many people, of course (and we believe the police are included in this category), are opposed to the theory of angle parking itself, from the point of view of accident hazard. This is a matter of opinion, and entirely contingent on the width of the streets concerned.

2: Off-street Parking. You suggest that there should be off-street parking without restricted curb parking. Certainly the establishment of downtown parking lots is of utmost importance, and such is being investigated. Surely you do not feel, however, that these lots should be for the use of the shopping public, while the business men utilize the spaces available at our own front doors? It is estimated that an average of at least 20 cars at present park all day in the down-town shopping area. It is for these cars that off-street parking should be found, thereby, on rotation system, providing space for 80-odd more shoppers in one day. Off-street parking lots would be useless from the public's point of view, unless restricted curb parking is first installed to control availability of the choice areas. This places the horse squarely before the cart.

3: Two-hour Parking Without Meters. A two hour restriction on parking is, we repeat, a logical first step. This two-hour limit was recommended because it was felt that very few, if any, Sidney shoppers would park for more than two hours. (Continued on Page Nine) just. The background is one which is more familiar to the writer than the average reader, for it enters into the realms of entertainment. In this field the average man is left with the distinct impression that the end result being what it is the background may be almost anything. The writer bears out this impression to a highly accurate degree.

The story is enjoyable if not entirely acceptable. Many stories emanating from the United States dealing with the life of a Jew in a Jewish setting set out to prove that the world is against the writer from the start. In this story the novel background gives an interesting novelty to the book, for there is no suggestion of whining or seeking directly to prove a moral. The introduction of an orthodox Jewish family's routine is interesting to the Christian reader.

It is light reading and once started it has to be finished. It is by no means in the same class as the Caine. It proves, perhaps, that the writer's field is a more active one than this particular choice.—F.G.R.

Reflections From the Past

10 YEARS AGO

Capt. and Mrs. C. F. Gibson, Centre Road, Sidney, have received word that their son, Humphrey, is being sent overseas with the R.C.A.F. to fly heavy transports.

Mrs. Stuart Snow, with her daughter, Diana, has spent the past five years on Galiano. The two left on Friday for Montreal en route to their new home in England.

20 YEARS AGO

Membership canvass is to be carried out next week on Salt Spring Island by the Lady Minto hospital.

Membership costs $6 per year and entitles the holder to free nursing and board on a doctor's recommendation. Non-members are urged to co-operate and enter this local insurance scheme when the canvasser calls next week.

Bert Bishop, of Mayne Island, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. A. Ralph, of Monarch Head, Saturna Island.

30 YEARS AGO

Two minor accidents occurred at the Sidney Mill on Monday. George Anderson and Lionel Crossley both injured their hands. The latter had his thumb removed, but Mr. Anderson was more fortunate.

EXPERIMENTAL FARM NOTES

WEEKLY REPORT OF NORTH SAANICH STATION

Most people do not appear to appreciate the value of alfalfa for Vancouver Island conditions. Where adapted, alfalfa is the most drought resistant legume and will produce higher forage yields than any other hay mixtures. Two full crops and a partial third crop may be expected under good soil and moisture conditions.

Alfalfa is best adapted to deep loams with open porous subsoils, but when other conditions are favorable the plant will grow over a wide range of soil conditions. It is a deep taprooted perennial, and will not thrive on very shallow soils underlain with hardpan or on soils with a very high water table. However, it has been successfully grown on a well-drained soil which was underlain with hardpan at the 18-inch depth. Alfalfa is especially sensitive to soil acidity, and does not grow to best advantage where the pH is below 6.

Alfalfa is somewhat more difficult to establish in mixtures than other legumes owing to the fact that it will not stand heavy competition from other species during the seedling stage. Alfalfa mixtures are successfully established by seeding the alfalfa in the spring and overseeding the grass the following fall.

Alfalfa varieties and mixtures, dates and rates of seeding, etc., are listed in the Forage Crop Recommendations for Vancouver Island. These recommendations are available from the Experimental Farm, Saanichton, B.C.

DRAINAGE

This is a good time to check your drainage system to make sure that everything is in order because winter runoff will soon commence.

It is suggested that you check all catch pits and remove leaves and any other debris that has collected. Also check all open ditches to make sure they are free of twigs, soil or other obstructions. Often, during summer operations, the banks of open ditches become damaged by tractors or other moving equipment. If this has happened, now is a good time to carry out repairs. The outlets should be checked to make sure they are free and that no erosion has taken place at the outlet.

This is also a good time to remind you that it is advisable to keep your soil covered during the winter months with some kind of plant cover. We recommend green manure crops, mulches, etc. If you haven't got a bulletin on this subject, it is available on request.

STEAM CLEANER

Considerable interest is manifest among local greenhouse operators in the portable type "Quick Steam Cleaners" for sterilizing greenhouse soils.

An actual test made with one model at the farm on September 21 resulted in the following observations being made: (The model tested was an oil fired, "Q.S.I. Quick Steam Cleaner" manufactured by an Oklahoma City manufacturer.)

1. Steam could be generated in 60 to 90 seconds from a cold start.
2. It took 70 minutes to bring the temperature of a mass of soil, 3x14 by 1 foot deep and situated on the ground, up to 180 degrees F., when the machine was operating at approximately full capacity (steam pressure was 100 pounds; water pressure was 125 pounds).

3. When bulbs were inserted at this point it took a further 16 minutes to thoroughly cook them. (This is considered a rough test for completion of soil sterilization).

The soil was a well-prepared bulb-flattening mixture, 1/2 compost, 1/4 sand and 1/4 peat placed directly over four 1/2-inch grids spaced 10 inches apart. Steam holes in the grids were 3/32 inches in diameter and 10 inches apart on each side of the pipes.

4. Less soil (i.e. grids about 10 feet long) are thought to be more satisfactory if reduction of sterilizing time is required at each setting. Further tests are contemplated.

KIDNEY ACIDS Rob your Rest..

Many people never seem to get a good night's rest. They turn and toss—blame it on "nerves"—when it may be their kidneys. Healthy kidneys filter poisons and excess acids from the blood. If they fail and impurities stay in the system—disturbed rest often follows. If you don't rest well get and use Dodd's Kidney Pills. If these men are discussing rye, at least one of them will be surprised to find his brand doesn't say "rye" on the label. Real rye whisky is made principally from rye grain and the label should say so. Look at the label of your brand—you may be missing something!

pers would overstay that limit. The recommendation, and the law when passed, will be for the benefit of Sidney shoppers, and Sidney shoppers only. To infer that prosecutions and fines will result is a misinterpretation of intent. It is a step that will have to be taken sooner or later, even with angle parking. As business increases, so also will the cars owned by businessmen and employees. Appeal for voluntary removal of these cars has been tried and found wanting in the past, although most of us tried conscientiously to co-operate with the idea. If one eight-hour parker, for instance, in good faith, moves his car to a side street, only to find another eight-hour parker has taken the place he vacated, he cannot be blamed for very soon moving his own car back again. One defaulter will soon undo all good intentions, and a law is made necessary for reference. This is the law which is now being proposed; it is a reference law for the control of habitual offenders, and should not in all fairness be interpreted otherwise. The very passing of such a law will tend to right a situation which, otherwise, could hardly be expected to improve with time.

The village commission has adopted, with good intent, a recommendation put forward by a committee of the Chamber of Commerce, also with good intent. Both groups have studied the matter. It is unfortunate that your editorial does paint a rather gloomy picture. One is inclined, after reading it, to conjure up a vision of big, burly guardians of the law, armed with stop watches and fine, fat salaries, placed at the threshold of every parking space, maliciously ticking off the seconds and at the same time writing out a ticket ready for the "kill". We trust that the contents of this letter will help to dispel any illusion, and that any of our shopping public who may have been alarmed at a similar apparition will now heartily concur with a first parking measure instigated solely for their convenience.

HALLOWE'EN
Editor, Review,
Sir:

For the past two years Mrs. W. W. McGill, Victoria representative of "Save the Children Fund", has made a wonderful contribution to the fund with the aid of Sunday school children.

On Halloween when they dress in fancy costumes and go calling on their neighbors they take along sealed tins and ask for donations for "Save the Children" instead of treats for themselves. Last year $1,544 was raised in this manner. This year she is expanding her plan to include all towns on the Island.

I have asked our Sunday school superintendents to aid this grand work. On Halloween I hope our

Two Speakers At P.T.A. Gathering

Two interesting talks were given at the regular meeting of Mayne Island P.T.A., held in the school on October 12.

President Mrs. Wm. Salmon conducted the meeting, at which arrangements were made to hold a Halloween party and bonfire for the children.

Bob Aitken, chairman of the school board, gave an enlightening talk on the duties of a school trustee. Helpful, general discussion followed.

At the close of the regular meeting Rev. B. H. L. Dance presented his views concerning the advisability of forming a Sunday school.

citizens will be ready when the children call and will drop a donation in their tins. These will be clearly marked and will be opened by their teachers, in classes, on Sunday, Nov. 6. The money collected will be sent to our own group of S.C.F. workers in Korea. Your aid will be greatly appreciated.

DEDICATION CEREMONY AT ISLAND CHURCH

During the Harvest Festival recently at St. Mark's church, Salt Spring Island, a number of dedications took place.

Six pews, including one in memory of a pioneer family and another in memory of Mrs. Elizabeth S. Turner, which was given by St. Mark's Chancel Guild and Mrs. Turner's many friends; a beautiful bronze plaque of the head of the queen in a carved oak frame, in commemoration of the Coronation of Queen Elizabeth II, and also the lovely window given by Miss Mary Walter of Victoria and her brother, Dr. Arthur Walter of St. John, New Brunswick, in memory of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Walter, pioneer members of St. Mark's church, were all consecrated.

The service was taken by Ven. G. H. Holmes, assisted by Rev. C. S. Coldwell.

The church, which is now completely furnished with new carved oak pews, was beautifully decorated for the service with the autumn fruits and other offerings of the harvest, the flowers on the altar were pastel-shaded dahlias, which toned so perfectly with the lovely embroidery of the festival frontal.

SUMMARY
J. S. Gardner, Jr., and the Rev. W. Buckingham gave a summary of the past. Twelve years ago, Mrs. R. M. McLennan started a Sunday school in her home on Downey Road. She was kindly given the use of St. Augustine's Hall, but within a few years the Sunday school had grown so large that alternative accommodation was clearly necessary.

The group committee of the Scouts was also anxious to find suitable headquarters for the Cubs, Scouts, Brownies, and Guides.

At the same time the community club felt the need of premises for social activities among the adults.

At a public meeting, held in 1952, the Rev. W. Buckingham intimated that the United church, which was about to begin services in the old school, might provide a building which would serve the varied needs of the district, religious and social work among all ages. It was unanimously agreed to support this project.

FUND RAISING
A subscription list was opened and additional revenue was derived from a number of concerts given by Clement May, Captain M. D. A. Darling, the North Saanich Choral Society, and the Masonic choir; from a fruit-stand superintended by Miss W. Brown; and sales of work organized by the Deep Cove Women's Association. The home missions board of the United Church made a grant of $750 and a loan of $750. The church extension committee also granted $300. The total expenditure to date is approximately $7,000 and the debt outstanding $525, although some work still needs to be done.
